Welcome to The HOME FRONT, your source for homebuyer market information, the role of mortgage insurance getting low down payment borrowers into homes, and resources for lenders and real estate professionals to help their clients and secure more business.

In this edition of The Home Front, we report on home price increases, historic low mortgage rates, tax breaks for homeowners, and the potential for borrower savings with conventional loans and private mortgage insurance (MI).

In each issue, we’ll report on current market data and trends, and provide information and resources on MI and Mortgage 101 topics that you can use to help educate clients.

Now is the Time to Buy

Home prices have continued their upward trend in March 2017, increasing both year-over-year and month-over-month according to the Home Price Index from CoreLogic. Home prices nationwide increased by 7.1% in March 2017 over March in 2016.

Strong job gains, household formation, population growth, and attractive mortgage rates are contributing to a surge in home prices across the U.S.

According to the CoreLogic Home Price Index Forecast, home prices will increase by 4.9% on a year-over-year basis from March 2017 to March 2018, putting prices in more than half of the country above their previous peaks.

Mortgage Data

According to the Freddie Mac Primary Mortgage Market Survey®, the housing market continues to show signs of strength, for both existing and new home sales, despite recent swings in mortgage rates.

Homeowner Tax Breaks

Achieving the American Dream has some benefits beyond painting, plumbing and yardwork. Tax benefits that is. Homeowners may deduct both mortgage interest and property tax payments, as well as certain other expenses from their federal income tax1. This means itemizing, but for many homeowners, it’s worth it to get the tax advantages, some of which can put money back in their pockets.

To keep abreast of trends and forecasts, please contact National MI at 855.317.4NMI (4664).

1 Consult a tax advisor. Ability to deduct mortgage interest for the 2017 tax year could be affected pending tax legislation.

Signs of Strength

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH JOHN BURNS REAL ESTATE CONSULTING

- THE REALTOR CONFIDENCE INDEX indicates that most real estate professionals are optimistic about current conditions and the six month outlook for the housing market.

- THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE DECLINED to 4.5% in March and has been trending down since 2010

- ABOVE AVERAGE economic growth with a positive trend is predicted

- 35% OF ALL HOMEBUYERS who use a mortgage are putting 5% or less down, with 41% of those 36 years old and younger

Leveraging MI: It’s About the Savings

With a mortgage, it’s not all about monthly payments, it’s about costs and savings.

More than 70% of FHA borrowers could save thousands of dollars with a conventional loan with private MI, giving borrowers a viable and affordable option. Many high credit quality borrowers with down payments below 20% can save up to $12,000* in just five years by choosing private mortgage insurance. The higher the credit score and the more money a borrower is able to put down, the more potential savings.

CREDIT SCORES

At its essence, a credit score indicates a consumer’s likelihood to make his or her loan payments in the future based on their credit data and credit patterns over time.

It is a numerical expression based on an analysis of a person’s credit files. Three quarters of U.S. mortgages are approved using the Fair Isaac Corporation (FICO®) score, which ranges from approximately 300 to 850 points.

A FICO SCORE OF 620 AND ABOVE QUALIFIES FOR AN MI LOAN

While a 760+ FICO score will garner the best rates on most types of loans, and this figure is considered a magic number by some, a FICO score of 620 and above qualifies for an MI loan. According to Ellie Mae, the average FICO score for homebuyers who finance FHA loans is 686, and for conventional, non-FHA loans it is 752.

MORTGAGE PROCESS

For the loan process to go smoothly, the initial application needs to be complete. The loan officer will obtain information and documentation pertinent for receiving loan approval. A borrower will need to obtain their credit report, gather documentation, consult with a lender to review their income, expenses, and financial goals, and consider obtaining a pre-approval letter or pre-qualification for a mortgage.

Getting Started

HIRE A REAL ESTATE PRO

Working with a real estate professional is essential in navigating the homebuying process. In addition to learning your wants and needs when it comes to a home and showing you properties, your agent will handle the sales contract, inspections, disclosures, and negotiations.

TIPS FOR BORROWERS STARTING THE LOAN PROCESS

1. Do NOT change companies or end a job during the loan process.
2. Do NOT open or apply for any new credit cards, car loans, or any other type of debt.
3. Do NOT make big purchases during the loan process (TVs, Home Electronics, Furniture, etc.).
4. Do NOT make any large deposits into your bank accounts without documented proof from the source you received it from.
5. ALWAYS make your payments on time each month.
